Dear Valued Customer,

Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) is conducting a once every two years review of Essential Use Exempt Customers. Essential Use Exempt Customers qualify for exemption from rotating outages that can be ordered by California Independent System Operator when there is an insufficient supply of electricity.

Currently, your facility (facilities) is (are) considered Essential Use Exempt. We are sending this letter to ask if your Essential Use Exempt status has changed.

IF NOTHING HAS CHANGED, NO ACTION IS REQUIRED.

Please complete and send the attached "Request for Change in Essential Use Exempt Customer Status" form if the facility at the address referenced above no longer provides an essential use service (as described in the attached), or the adequacy of your back-up generation has changed. If your status has changed, please scan and send the attached form to EssentialCustomer@pge.com within 15 days of the date of this letter. We will confirm your updated status in writing approximately 30 days following receipt of your response. For more information about the criteria for Essential Use customers, please go to Form 79-1038.

If you have any questions, please contact your Account Manager or send an email to EssentialCustomer@pge.com.

Sincerely,

Rotating Outage Rep
Pacific Gas and Electric Company

While PG&E strives to provide the most reliable electric service possible, please be advised that PG&E does not and cannot guarantee a continuous or sufficient supply of electricity or freedom from interruption. This provision is contained in PG&E's Tariff Rule 14 at http://www.pge.com/tariffs/tm2/pdf/ELEC_RULES_14.pdf. Even outside the rotating outage scenario, you should prepare for and expect an occasional unanticipated and unannounced interruption in your service due to numerous factors, including for example an earthquake, fire, windstorm, lightning strike, or even a car colliding with a power pole. If you believe an interruption would create a significant threat to public safety or health, we advise you to secure sufficient backup generation to guarantee electricity availability in those exigent circumstances. You may choose to seek the services of a qualified consultant who can offer guidance and advice regarding the installation and operation of appropriate equipment to enable your business to operate safely during outages of short duration, or at a minimum, to safely shut down your operations.
